Summary (as of Feb 5, 2002)

Fair Play in Sport Act of 2002 - Directs the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), in consultation and cooperation with the United States Anti-Doping Agency, to: (1) establish a research program to develop and improve the reliability, validity, and cost-effectiveness of testing for performance-enhancing substances the use of which is prohibited in the Olympic Games; and (2) establish a research program to determine the long-term consequences of the use of such substances. Requires NIST to provide review and assessment assistance to the Agency with respect to the laboratory accreditation process and testing procedures delineated in the International Olympic Committee's Olympic Movement Anti-Doping Code.
