Summary (as of Sep 4, 2002)

Amends the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act to expand the definition of public health pesticides, allowing the exemption (based upon economic return) from fees imposed under reregistration provisions for other pesticide active ingredients for only those that are "minor use" pesticides. Allows a portion of maintenance fees to be used for expedited processing and review of applications that propose the registration of an end use pesticide that is a public health pesticide only if it is a minor use pesticide.
