Summary (as of Mar 22, 2016)

Food Deserts Act of 2016

This bill establishes a Department of Agriculture program to provide grants to states for revolving funds to support the establishment and operation of grocery stores in underserved communities.

An underserved community is a community that has: (1) limited access to affordable, healthy foods, including fresh fruits and vegetables, in grocery retail stores or farmer-to-consumer direct markets; and (2) a high rate of hunger or food insecurity or a high poverty rate.

States must use the funds to make loans to support grocery stores in underserved communities, including for:

- opening a store (excluding new construction),
- supporting an existing store,
- purchasing an existing store, or
- supporting a store located in a community that would be underserved without the store.

States may only make loans for qualified grocery stores that:

- emphasize unprocessed, healthful foods;
- provide staple foods and a variety of raw fruits and vegetables;
- have a plan to keep the foods in stock; and
- charge prices at or below municipal averages.

States must prioritize loan applications from entities that meet criteria, including:

- hiring workers from the underserved community,
- providing classes or educational information about a healthful diet,
- sourcing food from local urban farms and gardens,
- not selling alcohol or tobacco products, or
- demonstrating existing supply chain relationships or expertise in the grocery industry.
