This bill addresses consultation after approval of certain land and resource management plans and land use plans.

Specifically, the bill provides that the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management shall not be required to reinstitute consultation under the Endangered Species Act on a completed land resource management plan or a completed land use plan that has no on-the-ground effects when

- a new species is listed or a new critical habitat is designated under that act, or
- new information reveals effects of such plan that may affect a species listed or critical habitat designated under that act in a manner or to an extent not previously considered.
